

This is Tim Palm

Creator of music and collector of vibes

Tim Palm is a Stockholm-based producer, artist, and live performer making electronic music that feels unmistakably human.

Rooted in Deep House, his sound has grown to encompass ambient, experimental as well as more high energy territory, always shaped by a philosophy of authenticity over perfection. His latest single, You'll Know, was released on October 22, 2026.

Signed to Fashionpolice Records, Tim has performed in Stockholm, London, Helsinki, Seoul, and beyond. His live-focused approach and ability to create emotionally resonant moments on stage has earned him a dedicated international following.

With 140,000+ followers across platforms and more than 100 million views, Tim Palm is an emerging voice in European electronic music.
